

Wednesday, August 6, 2008

xtreme lashes...as "u" wish nail spa

Ask any woman on the street and 9 times out of 10, she'll say that mascara is probably her number one makeup choice and a must to apply before she leaves the house.

Um..Christine...I'm looking in your direction.

Give one of those women a chance to have incredibly long, thick, and luscious and they'll slap down that charge card faster than you can say hey you want some long, thick, luscious lashes?

Enter Skyy Hadley, owner of the As "U" Wish Nail Spa in Hoboken New Jersey.

She knows lashes.

Considering she has a celeb clientele who clamor to her spa, just so they can get her famous Xtreme Lashes.

Why?

Well, with these you don't have to apply mascara or use an eyelash curler.

Basically, she applies the "gold standard" of false eyelashes to those who want the lashes of their dreams.

Read on...

Made of a lightweight, high-end silk and polyester blend that look and feel just like your own lashes, they are completely undetectable. During one two-hour session, Skyy typically applies 80 or so lashes - one at a time - using a safe, non-irritating super-strength glue similar to the bonding agent used by plastic surgeons for wound closure. The process is completely painless and lasts up to two months. Touchups are needed every three weeks. Xtreme Lashes are available at three different "levels" of length including:

Dream - the shortest of all three, this lash length is ideal for business women who want to fill in their lashes

Fantasy - this middle-of-the-road length is for women who want a noticeably different look that isn't too dramatic

Goddess - the red carpet standard, this ultra-long look is dramatic and noticeable, but not over-the-top

Because you aren't getting a run of the mill falsies, you're going to pay a little bit more...depending on number of lashes applied and desired look of lashes, prices start at $250.

What do we love about her? Well...this...Skyy gives back. She donates her services to one cancer patient each month.

If you're in the NJ or NYC area, head on over to As "U" Wish Nail Spa. It's located at 258 Newark Street in Hoboken, New Jersey. Call 201.420.5959 for appointments and more information.

With love (always),
Jennifer and Christine proud members of total beauty and the bbn networks

Posted by Jennifer | Permalink | _